

PRIVATE MENTAL HEALTH TREATMENT
IN YOUR HOME

---

“We approached Claimont when a close family member who was in a psychiatric hospital asked us to find him a service that could continue his treatment at home. With everybody realising he remained unwell, we were concerned he would leave hospital, stop his medication, and become very ill again.

The Claimont team provided a very professional, caring and personal service to our brother through what was a very emotional and stressful time for our family. Thanks to their skilled guidance and support, our brother felt involved in his care and his experience of treatment was much more positive. This gave us great peace of mind. Claimont gradually reduced their support over time, as he regained his independence.”

Claimont offers live-in care and daily home visits as an alternative to psychiatric hospital to help support clients with acute or longstanding mental illnesses.

- We provide treatment for adults, children and adolescents.
- Services are delivered by specialist mental health professionals, working collaboratively to ensure mental healthcare is integrated.

- Our clients opt for Claimont services for additional support at home, professional care, peace of mind, convenience and discretion.
- Our treatment services are available across the UK.

We have provided highly personalised care to private clients since 2012. We support clients at home to reduce the duration, severity and frequency of their mental ill health by improving wellbeing, increasing self-efficacy, and building resilience.

“I believe there is no greater environment for care and recovery than in your own home. I ran my own private practice in London for many years. When clients became very unwell, I found it incredibly difficult to identify professional, nurturing, and dependable services that offered them an alternative to a psychiatric hospital. I realised that there were limited options available to my private clients and their relatives who needed additional support outside a clinical setting. I decided to create a service that would offer them a treatment solution at home and in their local communities. This is where the Claimont journey began.”

Why clients choose Claimont

The need for more support and treatment than simply outpatient care

The ability to treat severe or enduring mental illnesses outside of hospital

The availability of multidisciplinary teams in the community

Unwillingness to be admitted to unfamiliar hospital surroundings

Long-term solutions for chronic problems

Limited availability of local expertise

The convenience of providing treatment at home

The need for absolute discretion

Previous poor experiences of mental health care

Coordination and management of care pathways

Flexible levels of service to meet changing clinical needs

Quick response and deployment at all levels of care
